MGI Digital Technology's Governance Changes

Paris, February 3, 2025

MGI Digital Technology (FR0010353888 ALMDG) announces the appointment of Mr. Tony Charlet as Chairman and CEO, replacing the company's founder, Mr. Edmond Abergel, who led the Group for over 40 years. Mr. Abergel will continue to play a key role as Chief Operating Officer in charge of Group strategy.

Since its creation in 1982, MGI Digital Technology has established itself as a leading global player in the industrial printing sector. After 43 years at the head of the Group, Edmond Abergel has built an international Group driven by a dynamic of continuous innovation and agility, and a solid trajectory of growth and profitability.

Over the years, Edmond Abergel has built a solid international organization and established itself as a key player in its market thanks to major strategic advances. Among these, the alliance with the Japanese Konica Minolta Group marked the start of a new phase of development and growth, propelling MGI Digital Technology into a global dimension.

Today, the company employs almost 300 people at five industrial sites in France and Germany.

In 2024, a new milestone was reached with the acquisition of ALTIX, expanding the Group's activities into the promising field of Printed Electronics. This diversification once again testifies to management's ability to identify strategic opportunities and position the Group in new, high-potential markets.

After 25 years in management positions within the Konica Minolta Group, Tony Charlet joined the MGI Digital Technology Group in 2020, first as a Director, then as Chief Operating Officer.

This experience has enabled him to acquire a perfect understanding of the Group's strategic, operational and human challenges, and to prepare for the handover in keeping with the values espoused by his predecessor.

Edmond Abergel comments: "I am proud to pass on the torch to Tony Charlet, whose skills, commitment and leadership will ensure that our mission continues: to transform digital printing technologies to create new opportunities for growth. I will continue to be actively involved in defining and implementing our strategy to support the Group's innovation and performance. Together, we will continue to defend the interests of our employees, partners, customers and shareholders who place their trust in us."

Tony Charlet: "I would like to thank Edmond Abergel for his trust and support. His visionary leadership, based on innovation and agility, has enabled the Group to become a global benchmark. My ambition is to ensure our continued success by preserving our fundamentals while exploring new opportunities to meet the challenges of our constantly evolving markets. In this mission, I will be able to continue to benefit from the expertise of its founder and all the Group's employees.”
